

Name : _ End time -	:
Rewrite the paragraphs and insert the missing full stops	and
capital letters.
finally, the week before Christmas had arrived!
Joey, henry and lisa were extremely excited all they could talk	about was what father Christmas might be bringing them each of the	1 children had written detailed lists of all the fabulous things they'd seen in mr magorium's famous toy shop: the toy emporium in this most wonderful place, you could find anything that your heart might desire if you were a child the shop was bursting with picture books, train sets, cuddly animals, paints, puzzles, board games, lego sets, racing cars, kits of all shapes and sizes, fancy dress costumes, balloons, balls and a hundred and other things furthermore, all these marvellous toys were arranged beautifully on stands and shelves that were just the right height for children the emporium was every child's wildest dream come true however, as joey, henry and lisa would soon discover, all was not what it seemed what they and everyone else believed was child's paradise was, in fact, a child's worst nightmare.......